

INSURANCE

Ask Us About An

Etna ACCIDENT POLICY

J. L. Lathrop & Sons, Agents

to take out a FIRE INSURANCE POLICY and feel that you will be compensated for all loss by fire. You cannot tell when some slight accident will start a bad fire. Don't go unprotected.

ISAAC S. JONES, Insurance and Real Estate Agent, Richards Building, 91 Main St.

The Office of WM. F. HILL, Real Estate and Fire Insurance, is located in Somers' Block, over C. M. Williams, Room 3, third floor. Telephone 147.

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW
AMOS A. BROWNING, Attorney-at-Law, 3 Richards Bldg. Phone 700.

Brown & Perkins, Attorneys-at-Law, Over First Nat. Bank, 28 Shetucket St. Insurance and Real Estate Agents. Telephone 11-1.

NOTICE

The Board of Relief of the Town of Norwich, Conn., will meet in the City Hall Building, in said Town, each day, Sundays excepted, from Feb. 1st to Feb. 21st, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., to listen to appeals from the doings of the Assessors, and to do any other business proper to be done at said meetings.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., Jan. 26th, 1913.
FRANK R. McLAUGHLIN, EDWARD KIRBY, JAMES W. BLACKBURN, Board of Relief.

We will serve another six o'clock dinner, Sunday, February 9th.

Tables are now being reserved. Phone 704.

Music by the Orchestra.

WAUREGAN HOUSE, PARKER-DAVENPORT CO., Proprietors.

Pies, Cake and Bread that cannot be excelled. Phone your order. Prompt service.

LOUIS H. BRUNELLE, 10 Carter Ave. (East Side).

Dr. T. J. KING, Originator of the King Seal System of Dentistry. Any person, no matter how old, delicate or nervous, can have their teeth extracted, filled or crowned without a particle of pain or discomfort.

FULL SET $8, With Natural Gums.

Don't buy old style teeth. The Natural Gums on teeth are used only by Dr. King, and absolutely prevent the detection of artificial teeth in the mouth.

Gold Crowns $5; Bridge Work $5; Gold Filling $1 up; other fillings 50c. Painless extraction FREE when sets are ordered. All work guaranteed.

KING DENTAL PARLORS, 203 Main Street, Over Smith's Drug Store. Telephone 3 a. m. to 3 p. m.

John and George H. Bliss

JEWELERS

"THE OLD RELIABLE" PLANT'S BLACK C & C CAPSULES, REMEDY FOR MEN.

RECORD FOR KENTUCKY FUTURITY

Second Payment on Nine Hundred and Seven Weanlings—

Peter the Great, Sire of 98—Thirty-Five States and Canada Represented.

Lexington Ky., Feb. 3.—Nine hundred and seven weanlings are reported as having had the second payment made on them for Kentucky Futurity foals of 1913. This eclipses all previous records in point of numbers. The Walnut Hall farm heads the list with 83 yearlings. The Patchen Wilkes farm is second with 73. The Empire City farm is third with 53, while 37 other stables have entered from five to 29 of their weanlings.

Peter the Great, 2,077, leads the list of stallions having 98 of his get, in the list of weanlings named in the second payment. Walnut Hall, 2,091-2, has 38 and San Francisco 2,071-2, 37. Twenty-six other sires are represented in the list. The foals are owned in 35 different states and within the United States the list with 386; New York is second with 121; Massachusetts third with 79; Pennsylvania fourth with 55 and Ohio fifth with 50.

Will Help to Boom the City. Having a league baseball team next season is going to give a great boost to New London in advertising the place and attracting public attention. The city is going to have a good one. During the past two years the city has had a tip-top team to represent it, but not being affiliated with a league the games lacked interest and the efforts of the players were never properly appreciated.

The people of this city are enthusiastic about the idea of having a league baseball team. There will be no radical changes in the present game; the year of trial has proven that it is a success. But there are certain changes which the majority of football experts desire. For instance, there are a number of football experts who believe that the side kick should be re-established as a feature of offensive play.

Others, too, are in favor of having a grounded forward pass become a loose ball, in order that spectacular plays may be added to the game. These suggestions are being numbered among the major changes which are being considered. On the other hand, there are several minor suggestions which will be submitted. Among the changes which will be advocated are the following:

As for example: Change the rule relative to an incomplete forward pass by imposing the penalty. At present a quick thinking player when about to be tackled behind the line may throw the ball to the ground and claim he was attempting a forward pass. The ball is then carried forward to the spot where it was put into play. The punter or any other man holding the ball may profit by this clause.

The new rules should make provision for the return of the ball. It is claimed. Four officials are needed to properly and efficiently enforce the present rules relative to forward passing, holding and the use of hands. The head linesman cannot keep time, mark off distance and watch off-side men kick. It is proposed that forward passes, all at the same time. With the referee standing behind the attacking team, and the field judge behind the defense, the fouls now lost would be seen and called.

Make a penalty of ten yards for the forward pass not thrown over the line of scrimmage. Make a line parallel to the sideline the bear side, as well as the line taken outside, to be brought in to this line invariably. Allow men leaving the game during the first two periods to return at the beginning of the second half, but not later. Lengthen the game to 20 minute periods. Allow more "times out" for injuries.

INTERSTATE LEAGUE

New Baseball Circuit Organized at New York.

New York, Feb. 3.—The new Interstate Baseball league was formally organized here today with Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Newburgh, Kingston and Paterson, N. J., as charter members. W. H. Pfau of this city was appointed temporary president, secretary and treasurer.

The league will ask the National Association for Class D protection and whether it will consist of six or eight clubs is to be decided at a meeting to be held here about ten days hence. Application for membership was received from other places from Danbury, Conn.

When the football rules committee meets in New York this month there will be a number of suggestions offered for changes in the present rules. There will be no radical changes in the present game; the year of trial has proven that it is a success.

But there are certain changes which the majority of football experts desire. For instance, there are a number of football experts who believe that the side kick should be re-established as a feature of offensive play. Others, too, are in favor of having a grounded forward pass become a loose ball, in order that spectacular plays may be added to the game.

These suggestions are being numbered among the major changes which are being considered. On the other hand, there are several minor suggestions which will be submitted. Among the changes which will be advocated are the following:

As for example: Change the rule relative to an incomplete forward pass by imposing the penalty. At present a quick thinking player when about to be tackled behind the line may throw the ball to the ground and claim he was attempting a forward pass. The ball is then carried forward to the spot where it was put into play. The punter or any other man holding the ball may profit by this clause.

The new rules should make provision for the return of the ball. It is claimed. Four officials are needed to properly and efficiently enforce the present rules relative to forward passing, holding and the use of hands. The head linesman cannot keep time, mark off distance and watch off-side men kick. It is proposed that forward passes, all at the same time. With the referee standing behind the attacking team, and the field judge behind the defense, the fouls now lost would be seen and called.

Make a penalty of ten yards for the forward pass not thrown over the line of scrimmage. Make a line parallel to the sideline the bear side, as well as the line taken outside, to be brought in to this line invariably. Allow men leaving the game during the first two periods to return at the beginning of the second half, but not later. Lengthen the game to 20 minute periods. Allow more "times out" for injuries.

HAMMER THROW DANGEROUS.

Talk of Abolishing Field Event Continues.

Throwing the hammer as an event on the intercollegiate track and field program is in greater danger this year than it has been in many years. The prominence of other events in the recent past has been a factor in the decline of the hammer. The year of trial has proven that it is a success. But there are certain changes which the majority of football experts desire. For instance, there are a number of football experts who believe that the side kick should be re-established as a feature of offensive play.

Others, too, are in favor of having a grounded forward pass become a loose ball, in order that spectacular plays may be added to the game. These suggestions are being numbered among the major changes which are being considered. On the other hand, there are several minor suggestions which will be submitted. Among the changes which will be advocated are the following:

As for example: Change the rule relative to an incomplete forward pass by imposing the penalty. At present a quick thinking player when about to be tackled behind the line may throw the ball to the ground and claim he was attempting a forward pass. The ball is then carried forward to the spot where it was put into play. The punter or any other man holding the ball may profit by this clause.

The new rules should make provision for the return of the ball. It is claimed. Four officials are needed to properly and efficiently enforce the present rules relative to forward passing, holding and the use of hands. The head linesman cannot keep time, mark off distance and watch off-side men kick. It is proposed that forward passes, all at the same time. With the referee standing behind the attacking team, and the field judge behind the defense, the fouls now lost would be seen and called.

Make a penalty of ten yards for the forward pass not thrown over the line of scrimmage. Make a line parallel to the sideline the bear side, as well as the line taken outside, to be brought in to this line invariably. Allow men leaving the game during the first two periods to return at the beginning of the second half, but not later. Lengthen the game to 20 minute periods. Allow more "times out" for injuries.

When the football rules committee meets in New York this month there will be a number of suggestions offered for changes in the present rules. There will be no radical changes in the present game; the year of trial has proven that it is a success. But there are certain changes which the majority of football experts desire. For instance, there are a number of football experts who believe that the side kick should be re-established as a feature of offensive play.

Others, too, are in favor of having a grounded forward pass become a loose ball, in order that spectacular plays may be added to the game. These suggestions are being numbered among the major changes which are being considered. On the other hand, there are several minor suggestions which will be submitted. Among the changes which will be advocated are the following:

As for example: Change the rule relative to an incomplete forward pass by imposing the penalty. At present a quick thinking player when about to be tackled behind the line may throw the ball to the ground and claim he was attempting a forward pass. The ball is then carried forward to the spot where it was put into play. The punter or any other man holding the ball may profit by this clause.

The new rules should make provision for the return of the ball. It is claimed. Four officials are needed to properly and efficiently enforce the present rules relative to forward passing, holding and the use of hands. The head linesman cannot keep time, mark off distance and watch off-side men kick. It is proposed that forward passes, all at the same time. With the referee standing behind the attacking team, and the field judge behind the defense, the fouls now lost would be seen and called.

Make a penalty of ten yards for the forward pass not thrown over the line of scrimmage. Make a line parallel to the sideline the bear side, as well as the line taken outside, to be brought in to this line invariably. Allow men leaving the game during the first two periods to return at the beginning of the second half, but not later. Lengthen the game to 20 minute periods. Allow more "times out" for injuries.

When the football rules committee meets in New York this month there will be a number of suggestions offered for changes in the present rules. There will be no radical changes in the present game; the year of trial has proven that it is a success. But there are certain changes which the majority of football experts desire. For instance, there are a number of football experts who believe that the side kick should be re-established as a feature of offensive play.

Others, too, are in favor of having a grounded forward pass become a loose ball, in order that spectacular plays may be added to the game. These suggestions are being numbered among the major changes which are being considered. On the other hand, there are several minor suggestions which will be submitted. Among the changes which will be advocated are the following:

As for example: Change the rule relative to an incomplete forward pass by imposing the penalty. At present a quick thinking player when about to be tackled behind the line may throw the ball to the ground and claim he was attempting a forward pass. The ball is then carried forward to the spot where it was put into play. The punter or any other man holding the ball may profit by this clause.

The new rules should make provision for the return of the ball. It is claimed. Four officials are needed to properly and efficiently enforce the present rules relative to forward passing, holding and the use of hands. The head linesman cannot keep time, mark off distance and watch off-side men kick. It is proposed that forward passes, all at the same time. With the referee standing behind the attacking team, and the field judge behind the defense, the fouls now lost would be seen and called.

Make a penalty of ten yards for the forward pass not thrown over the line of scrimmage. Make a line parallel to the sideline the bear side, as well as the line taken outside, to be brought in to this line invariably. Allow men leaving the game during the first two periods to return at the beginning of the second half, but not later. Lengthen the game to 20 minute periods. Allow more "times out" for injuries.

ANSON'S EXPERIENCE ABROAD.

"Pop" Had One Slipped Over on Him by Boy in Billard-Room.

"Tim" Murnane of the Boston Globe and present of the New England league related the following incident about "Pop" Anson: "Capt. A. C. Anson was a conspicuous member of the American bill players that paid Europe a visit in the summer of 1874. Anson was born at Marshalltown, Ia., the first child of John and Mary Ann Anson. Anson was one of those clever players that did not win at most everything that he undertook in the line of sport.

"He was a crack shot, could box, toss quoits, play cricket, and was looked upon as one of the finest billiard experts in the country. This was a great reputation for a young man of his age. Anson was educated at Notre Dame university. Billiards was Anson's weakness, and he was forever looking for soft marks. At London the American players stopped at the Midland Grand hotel. Anson was picked up by the directors of the billiard club, who were anxious to see him display his skill with an Englishman.

"According to the young man in charge of the room Anson said, 'Will you play a game of billiards?' 'Then he put the balls on the table, furnished Anson and himself with cues, and the game began. Anson won the game of 100 points, then suggested that they play one more game for the drinks and cigars for the party.

"Anson took the check, looked at it, and said, 'I beat you both games, and the whole thing is on you.' 'The Englishman said: 'Why, it's our custom to play with any gentleman that invites us. I was simply accommodating you, sir.' 'He paid the check and insisted that another game be played, with the cue ball in the center of the table. Anson was a crack shot, could box, toss quoits, play cricket, and was looked upon as one of the finest billiard experts in the country.

This was a great reputation for a young man of his age. Anson was educated at Notre Dame university. Billiards was Anson's weakness, and he was forever looking for soft marks. At London the American players stopped at the Midland Grand hotel. Anson was picked up by the directors of the billiard club, who were anxious to see him display his skill with an Englishman.

"According to the young man in charge of the room Anson said, 'Will you play a game of billiards?' 'Then he put the balls on the table, furnished Anson and himself with cues, and the game began. Anson won the game of 100 points, then suggested that they play one more game for the drinks and cigars for the party.

"Anson took the check, looked at it, and said, 'I beat you both games, and the whole thing is on you.' 'The Englishman said: 'Why, it's our custom to play with any gentleman that invites us. I was simply accommodating you, sir.' 'He paid the check and insisted that another game be played, with the cue ball in the center of the table. Anson was a crack shot, could box, toss quoits, play cricket, and was looked upon as one of the finest billiard experts in the country.

This was a great reputation for a young man of his age. Anson was educated at Notre Dame university. Billiards was Anson's weakness, and he was forever looking for soft marks. At London the American players stopped at the Midland Grand hotel. Anson was picked up by the directors of the billiard club, who were anxious to see him display his skill with an Englishman.

"According to the young man in charge of the room Anson said, 'Will you play a game of billiards?' 'Then he put the balls on the table, furnished Anson and himself with cues, and the game began. Anson won the game of 100 points, then suggested that they play one more game for the drinks and cigars for the party.

"Anson took the check, looked at it, and said, 'I beat you both games, and the whole thing is on you.' 'The Englishman said: 'Why, it's our custom to play with any gentleman that invites us. I was simply accommodating you, sir.' 'He paid the check and insisted that another game be played, with the cue ball in the center of the table. Anson was a crack shot, could box, toss quoits, play cricket, and was looked upon as one of the finest billiard experts in the country.

This was a great reputation for a young man of his age. Anson was educated at Notre Dame university. Billiards was Anson's weakness, and he was forever looking for soft marks. At London the American players stopped at the Midland Grand hotel. Anson was picked up by the directors of the billiard club, who were anxious to see him display his skill with an Englishman.

"According to the young man in charge of the room Anson said, 'Will you play a game of billiards?' 'Then he put the balls on the table, furnished Anson and himself with cues, and the game began. Anson won the game of 100 points, then suggested that they play one more game for the drinks and cigars for the party.

"Anson took the check, looked at it, and said, 'I beat you both games, and the whole thing is on you.' 'The Englishman said: 'Why, it's our custom to play with any gentleman that invites us. I was simply accommodating you, sir.' 'He paid the check and insisted that another game be played, with the cue ball in the center of the table. Anson was a crack shot, could box, toss quoits, play cricket, and was looked upon as one of the finest billiard experts in the country.

This was a great reputation for a young man of his age. Anson was educated at Notre Dame university. Billiards was Anson's weakness, and he was forever looking for soft marks. At London the American players stopped at the Midland Grand hotel. Anson was picked up by the directors of the billiard club, who were anxious to see him display his skill with an Englishman.

"According to the young man in charge of the room Anson said, 'Will you play a game of billiards?' 'Then he put the balls on the table, furnished Anson and himself with cues, and the game began. Anson won the game of 100 points, then suggested that they play one more game for the drinks and cigars for the party.

ETNA LIFES

$3,250 Insurance for $10

The ETNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY issues a policy combining Life and Accident Insurance which stands without a rival. The ETNA $10 Combination Policy gives (in Preferred rate occupations) a wide range of protection at a very low cost. $2,000 for death, loss of limbs or sight from Travel, Elevator or Burning Building Accident. $1,000 for death, loss of limbs or sight from Ordinary Accident.

$250 for death from any cause—No Medical Examination Required. The Accumulations, Double Benefits and Life Insurance provided by this Ten Dollar Combination make possible the payment of $3,250 at a cost of only $10 A YEAR, in addition to Weekly Indemnity for total or partial disability from accident. Even if you carry insurance let us send you the details of this policy. If you carry no insurance the more reason for you to send the coupon at once.

J. L. LATHROP & SONS, Local Agents, 28 Shetucket Street

proudest moments in the life of Paul Hines, I tell you. Buffington, the old Boston pitcher, Tim Keefe and Radbourne are Hines' selections as the greatest pitchers, and he picks Ed Williams as the greatest player and Silver Flint as the most binged-up and best catcher that ever lived.

HOW RADBOURNE WON FLAG. Pitched His Team to Victory, Single-Handed, Working in 27 Straight Games.

Frank Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was manager of the Providence club in 1884 when Charles Radbourne made his remarkable record of pitching 27 consecutive games, of which he won 26. Bancroft tells the story of that great pitching feat as follows: "About the middle of the season Sweeney, one of our pitchers, quit us and the club was going to disband, for pitchers were scarce and the season was about half over. When a tray of empty glasses was placed on a stand about three yards from the head of the billiard table. Anson maneuvered until he got his cue ball in range with the glasses, then, hitting the ball well underneath, he executed a jump shot and sent the ivory ball spinning among the glassware.

Then, with a look of surprise on his face, he apologized to the man in charge. Anson then paid for the billiards. It was taken for granted that the breaking of the glassware was purely accidental, and Anson was satisfied. The best part of a bright, new overcoat was left to pay for the lesson in English etiquette.

FIRST UNASSISTED TRIPLE. Paul Hines Explains How He Made Sensational Play. Regarding the first unassisted triple play, Paul Hines, the hero, writes: "It was made May 8, 1878. I was playing deep center field for Providence, and there were runners on second and third when a short fly was hit over second base. I ran in after the ball, believing I had the speed to reach it, for I was pretty fast in those days. Both runners thought the ball would fall safe and ran for the plate. I got the ball off my instep near second, touched the base and then ran to third, reaching that base before the runner who had occupied it could return, thus completing the play.

"The play had been questioned, but I said that Dan Daniel, who worked that day, vouched for it recently. Of course, I remember distinctly how the crowd, when it realized what had happened, went wild. It was one of the proudest moments in the life of Paul Hines, I tell you.

POOR IDEA OF MANAGERS. Jess Willard, the Texas heavyweight who wants to fight Luther McCarty, has a poor opinion of managers and seconds. He has a manager, Kid Cutler, a former boxer, but he carries a very small figure. Willard cannot appreciate the value of a mentor who is ready to throw his earnings in the ring. The big fellow has a mind of his own and thinks that he can make his own matches without assistance. He says that if his fighting ability is worth so much money he wants the lion's share, and he believes that he knows enough about the game to pick his antagonists. Willard has a high opinion of his own methods of milling. When he knocked out Sol-Ido Kearns in the garden recently he had three seconds in his corner. Before the bout began he said to them: "I don't want any advice from you fellows. One of you must fan me, another must have a lemon peel ready when I sit down, and the third can sponge my face and neck. But that's all I'll do the thinking for all of us."

His handlers obeyed him to the letter.

TWO PLAYERS FOR MECHANICS. Bridgeport Secures Pitcher Paddock and Second Baseman Bowman.

Manager Gene McCann of the Bridgeport team has recently returned from a scouting trip over several days, but didn't have to go far to find new material. Bowman, a second baseman from the Birmingham club of the New York state league, has been picked up, while Joe Paddock, a semi-professional player from Ware, is added to the team. "I don't want any advice from you fellows," said Gene, "and I finally landed him. He is a fellow about six feet in height and a left-handed pitcher. He played second base for the New York team in the Tri-State league in 1911 an last year he was with the Birmingham team. He weighs nearly 190 pounds and is just the man I want. Paddock comes highly recommended and he has plenty of experience. I believe he will come through season. If he does not he will be a fine pitcher."

Chicago arrested 87 auto drivers in one day recently for speeding.

THE BIG WHITE DOME

The boat stopped at the town of Henderson. "Your money's used up," said the captain, "and you're ready to go to Congress from here. And, sure enough, ten years later he did."

All Warm and Snug. When J. Pierpont Morgan appeared before the committee of the House of Representatives investigating the "money trust" there was a great rush of congressmen to the caucus room in the House office building, where the hearing was held. Representative Fitzgerald of New York, the "money trust" expert, replied to the chairman of the House appropriations committee, "Is in Sam Crammer's pocket."

Just as Easy! Representative A. O. Stanley of Kentucky, the head of the "steel trust" investigations, was once a school teacher in the mountains of his native state. One day he decided to see the great world. So he handed a steamboat captain some money and told the officer to let him off when that amount had been consumed in travel.

"We Wonder Why?" The subject of "The Western Traveler" is always handled very carefully in the office of Special Clerk at the Capitol. A member of the Kentucky congressional delegation took a constituent in to see the Speaker not long after the Baltimore convention.

"I met you once before," said the Speaker's visitor. "It was at one of William J. Bryan's birthday celebrations."

"Well," retorted Mr. Clark, "you can meet him in your morning tea, that you'll never see me at another one."

Some Shooter! Jeffery Smith, chief clerk of the House of Representatives, once single-handed took a 1-2-3 of Time 2-5-8. Time loans firm: 60 days 3 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-10-11-12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30-31-32-33-34-35-36-37-38-39-40-41-42-43-44-45-46-47-48-49-50-51-52-53-54-55-56-57-58-59-60-61-62-63-64-65-66-67-68-69-70-71-72-73-74-75-76-77-78-79-80-81-82-83-84-85-86-87-88-89-90-91-92-93-94-95-96-97-98-99-100-101-102-103-104-105-106-107-108-109-110-111-112-113-114-115-116-117-118-119-120-121-122-123-124-125-126-127-128-129-130-131-132-133-134-135-136-137-138-139-140-141-142-143-144-145-146-147-148-149-150-151-152-153-154-155-156-157-158-159-160-161-162-163-164-165-166-167-168-169-170-171-172-173-174-175-176-177-178-179-180-181-182-183-184-185-186-187-188-189-190-191-192-193-194-195-196-197-198-199-200-201-202-203-204-205-206-207-208-209-210-211-212-213-214-215-216-217-218-219-220-221-222-223-224-225-226-227-228-229-230-231-232-233-234-235-236-237-238-239-240-241-242-243-244-245-246-247-248-249-250-251-252-253-254-255-256-257-258-259-260-261-262-263-264-265-266-267-268-269-270-271-272-273-274-275-276-277-278-279-280-281-282-283-284-285-286-287-288-289-290-291-292-293-294-295-296-297-298-299-300-301-302-303-304-305-306-307-308-309-310-311-312-313-314-315-316-317-318-319-320-321-322-323-324-325-326-327-328-329-330-331-332-333-334-335-336-337-338-339-340-341-342-343-344-345-346-347-348-349-350-351-352-353-354-355-356-357-358-359-360-361-362-363-364-365-366-367-368-369-370-371-372-373-374-375-376-377-378-379-380-381-382-383-384-385-386-387-388-389-390-391-392-393-394-395-396-397-398-399-400-401-402-403-404-405-406-407-408-409-410-411-412-413-414-415-416-417-418-419-420-421-422-423-424-425-426-427-428-429-430-431-432-433-434-435-436-437-438-439-440-441-442-443-444-445-446-447-448-449-450-451-452-453-454-455-456-457-458-459-460-461-462-463-464-465-466-467-468-469-470-471-472-473-474-475-476-477-478-479-480-481-482-483-484-485-486-487-488-489-490-491-492-493-494-495-496-497-498-499-500-501-502-503-504-505-506-507-508-509-510-511-512-513-514-515-516-517-518-519-520-521-522-523-524-525-526-527-528-529-530-531-532-533-534-535-536-537-538-539-540-541-542-543-544-545-546-547-548-549-550-551-552-553-554-555-556-557-558-559-560-561-562-563-564-565-566-567-568-569-570-571-572-573-574-575-576